A STATEMENT FROM VOLUNTARY ACTION ANGUS - Voluntary Action Angus (VAA) has been working closely with Angus Health & Social Care Partnership over a number of years to provide an Angus wide volunteer driving scheme. This has enabled people in Angus, especially in rural areas who often experience difficulties finding transport, to access various health and social care services and community based groups.

We are pleased to announce that the volunteer driving scheme will be run by Angus Health and Social Care Partnership from October with continued input from VAA. We wish to provide reassurance that people who meet the required criteria for this service will continue to receive this support. We are very grateful for the significant effort made by volunteers in developing this service which plays a major part in building an Angus that actively cares. This is just one of many examples of innovative partnership working between VAA and Angus Health & Social Care Partnership, which helps ensure the best possible services are available to people in Angus.

SAD EVENT

Help to combat the winter blues Do you find that you struggle in the winter with: feeling down (low mood or depression), lack of energy, sleeping for longer, struggling to get up in the morning, a loss of interest in things, craving carbohydrates and gaining weight, feeling more irritable? All these are symptoms of seasonal affective disorder, also known as the winter blues. Many people suffer with this every year. Want more information, hints and tips to help combat the winter blues? Come to our event at Academy Medical Centre on Tuesday 2nd October 5.30-6.15 in the waiting room. It will be run by Dr Hannah Dale, Health Psychologist and Ashley McGregor, Senior Community Health Development Worker, who are both based at the practice. There's no need to sign up, just come along on the day at 5.30.

Could you volunteer your time and support stroke survivors in your local community? Every day in Scotland 25 people will have a stroke. In Tayside alone, 10,503 people are living with the impact of a stroke. Chest Heart & Stroke Scotland (CHSS) wants to make sure that everyone has the best recovery they can after a stroke. You can volunteer with CHSS and help stroke survivors to rebuild their confidence, overcome their anxieties and live fuller lives. Mark Jackson, Rehabilitation Support Coordinator, Chest Heart & Stroke Scotland, said “Our Rehabilitation Support Service enables people to get their lives back on track after a stroke. We provide a bridge for people so that they can return home and resume independent, active lives in the communities they live in. In order to do this we rely on the support of our dedicated volunteers. In Angus we are desperately seeking more people to join our team as a Rehabilitation Support Volunteer. “With the help of our volunteers, we can change people’s lives; the time, support and the work they do is vital to us and the people we help. As a volunteer, you are not only helping someone to live life to the full but also developing skills while doing something rewarding and worthwhile.” “Our volunteers get a lot of satisfaction from their role at our Rehabilitation Services. One volunteer recently said to me, “If I can help make someone’s life enjoyable or more bearable then I’m doing something right.” Seeing the positive difference to people’s lives each week is what it’s all about.” If you think you could help make a difference to the lives of people in your local community then CHSS wants to hear from you. Call Mark Jackson on 07392 869306 or email mark.jackson@chss.org.uk.

She did it!

Kirriemuir Girl Bethan Whamond has cycled from lands end to John O'Groats to raise funds for Angus Independent Advocacy (AIA) a local Angus Charity.

A journey of more than 110 miles covered some of the most spectacular scenery of the U.K including the challenging 9000 feet climb from Perth to Granton on Spey over the Lecht.

Bethan said I really enjoyed it , its great to do these things meet new friends and test yourself. I particularly loved being back in Scotland we are lucky to have such fantastic scenery in our country. Although it was very challenging it was worth it both personally in terms of the experience and also to raise funding for such a great local Charity.

On behalf of Angus Independent Advocacy, Suzanne Swinton said, "We are delighted that Bethan has completed her challenge and really appreciate the vital funding she has raised and more so the message she has sent out such of promoting inclusion and equality for all, whilst raising awareness of the barriers people can face in having their voices heard and being part of their local communities.

If anyone is interested in finding out more about any aspect of the work of Angus Independent Advocacy they can do so by contacting the office on 01241 434413 / enquiries@angusindadvocacy.org or by visiting our website www.angusindadvocacy.org Bethan ended by saying its fantastic the support I have had and the generosity of people and organisations in donating to the cycling for Advocacy fund. The fund closes on the 30th of September allowing people to contribute now that I have completed the journey
